GARY HOLMES

LOCAL 933
PRESIDENT

Hello Brothers and Sisters,

I am proud to say that during our Community Labor Celebration we raised $41,500 that went to the Indiana Sheriff's Youth Ranch and The Veterans Car Show this year raised over $17,000 for the Indy Honor Flights. A special thank you to everyone that volunteered for these events, you are amazing! The Standing Committees outdid themselves going above and beyond with the silent auction and raffle items. It takes all of us working together, networking and building new relationships with our Retiree chapters, Active memberships, Standing committees, CAP councils, Community leaders, Local businesses and Union Leadership in order to be successful in making a difference within our communities.

UAW Region 2B held Leadership and Advisory Council meetings in October where Local 933 made a good showing by winning elected positions in the five council meetings that were attended. Congratulations to the following members: Chad Clark – Recording Secretary (Skilled Trades Advisory Council), Valerie Hodgens – Sergeant at Arms (Women's Advisory Council), Chasity Wiggins – Board Member at Large (Union Label Advisory Council), Nora Stockton – Board Member at Large (Civil Rights Advisory Council) and Andy Davis – Recording Secretary (Education Advisory Council). I know that they will represent our local well. Good job!

The bronze UAW logo has been mounted on the front of the union hall. I would like to thank Region 2B Director Wayne Blanchard and Assistant Director Jeff Schrock once again for dedicating it to local 933 during our 80th year anniversary. It looks awesome! Thanks to our skilled tradesmen for help in getting it mounted.

It is important to keep your address and contact information updated at the local union hall. To receive the local union newsletter by mail, contact the president's office and ask to be put on the mailing list for the Rocket. If you haven't received your union card, which came out earlier this year, contact your union representative or your financial secretary, Scott Lawson.

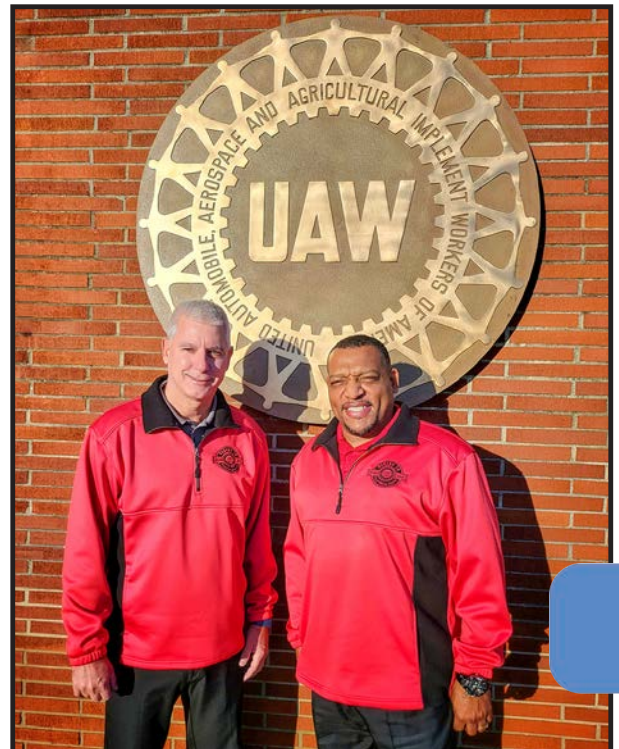

It's hard to believe that another year is coming to an end. We have lost several of our union brothers and sisters this past year. I ask you to please take a moment to yourself and reflect on them in your thoughts while remembering how precious life is. During the holiday season it can become stressful at times and sometimes depressing for people, especially for those who are less fortunate. If you can reach out and help someone in need, I'm sure it will ease their burden and bring joy to you as well.

I hope everyone enjoys their Thanksgiving holiday. Remember that your holiday time off was a negotiated benefit. We should all be thankful. With Christmas coming and Covid unfortunately still looming around the corner, we are looking at other ways to meet with Santa this year in order to keep everyone safe and healthy. If possible, this event will take place on Saturday December 11th. Please watch for more informational postings on our website, Local933.com and on the union bulletin board in the plants.

On behalf of the Executive Board and myself, we wish you, your family and friends a safe and happy holiday.

MERRY CHRISTMAS,

Gary Holmes

CELEBRATING

80 Years

On August 28th, 2021 UAW Local 933 Celebrated its 80th Anniversary with a Community Labor Celebration! Thank you to UAW Region 2B, Indiana Sheriffs' Youth Ranch, Wayne Township Fire Department, Allison Transmission, Rolls-Royce, Marion County UAW CAP Council, all of our generous sponsors, and of course, the many UAW Local 933 members that spent hours of their own time making the event a great success. It would not have been possible without you!

For God and Country

This is the Rocket Article that falls right between three major U. S. holidays. We celebrate November 11, the day we pay tribute to our Veterans, November 25th, Thanksgiving Day and December 25th, Christmas Day. Maybe no time better than now, to reflect on all these holidays and the freedom living as an American represents.

If you are not a Veteran, then you probably know one. My uncle was one and he fought in World War II. He was part of a tank division in Italy. Always cared about our country and knew it was everybody's responsibility to stand up for it. His hard-fought values were not discriminatory and he knew people by nature are different and he accepted that. It was about recognizing that we were all put here to take care of each other. He was proud that he fought for that honor. The right to practice the religion of our choice, the right to vote the way we wanted and the right to comb your hair anyway you see fit. Thank you, Veterans, for defending our American dream. Now it is our time to stand up for it too.

Thanksgiving Day, we pause to reflect the harvest and blessings of the past year. We remember those who are no longer with us as our families shrink from one generation and grow into the next. We remember our friends who have retired and we welcome the new employees that have joined us. We are thankful for our Union and reminded that it is only as strong as we make it. We pray for grace and healing as we recover from illness and the political extremities that seek to divide us. As you celebrate the Thanksgiving Day holiday, please enjoy the time with your families and keep those without, in your thoughts and prayers.

The weather is changing quickly as we move closer to December. We all gravitate toward our gift buying frenzy as we seek out the Black Friday specials. Who would think that in the middle of what normally would be a time of celebration, we would be looking at a vaccine mandate that cuts to the core of our constitutionality? Let me start off by saying nobody wants to catch the coronavirus 19, 20, or 21. Everyone wants to be safe but even the majority believes it is your right to choose a vaccination or not. To go along with that, why should losing your livelihood be a part of it? As your Union team fights for our membership's rights prior to December 8th and presses for some relaxation to the hard-stop deadline, we face a time of uncertainty. I believe the Christmas Holiday delivers anything but uncertainty. As consumed as we all are looking for answers maybe our faith is the only answer we really ever needed. The religious holiday brings hope and promise. May we all take the negotiated time off to reflect and to spend time with the ones we love most. Please have a safe and happy holiday season and thank you all for the jobs you do.

Union Strong,
John Snow

HOLIDAY REFLECTIONS

Brothers and Sisters, it is hard to believe that we are already approaching the Holiday season and the end of another very eventful year, yet here we are! We have seen near record hiring, temporary layoffs, mask mandates lifted then reinstated, COVID shot mandates, push back on shot mandates, new product lines, new building projects, the ever present contractual challenges, and vast societal changes. Yes, we have had our ups and downs, but we are still standing, and we should never forget how much we have to be thankful for.

VETERANS DAY (November 11)

Our Veterans are amazing people and show us all what it means to sacrifice for others and to serve. We owe each one a debt of gratitude for their service to our country as they have made personal sacrifices to protect our freedoms. Let us not take those freedoms for granted. When you see a Veteran, be sure to thank them for their service.

THANKSGIVING (November 25)

We all have struggles, challenges, heartaches, trials, and disappointments; it is simply a part of living. But, if you have a job, be thankful. If you have family and friends to lean on, confide in, and celebrate with, be thankful. If you have a place to sleep, enough to eat, and clothes to wear, be thankful. If you have your health, be thankful. If you are not well, be thankful for access to good healthcare. Be thankful for waking up, for clean water, a warm bed, a beautiful sunrise, a kind word, a child's smile, comfortable shoes, a trustworthy friend, special memories, good books, music, forgiveness, heartfelt apologies, an opportunity, a second chance, and so much more. We can even be thankful for the struggles we go through for they can make us stronger and wiser, if we will let them. We may not have everything, and we will certainly fall short in always maintaining an attitude of gratitude, but we should strive to remember just how fortunate we are and be grateful for all we have.

CHRISTMAS (December 25)

Christmas is indeed "The Most Wonderful Time of the Year." Whether you are celebrating Christmas (the birth of the Savior), Hanukkah (the Festival of Lights), Kwanzaa (African Harvest Festival), all of the above, or none of the above, you have to admit that there is something different about this time of the year. A spirit of kindness and good will seems to permeate the very air we breathe. It is my heartfelt wish that all of our members will enjoy the festivities of the season while spending time with family and friends. However, let us not forget those who have experienced great loss and may be struggling through a difficult or lonely Holiday season.

NEW YEAR (January 1)

The start of the New Year is an opportunity to reflect on the year gone by, to be thankful for the blessings and opportunities provided, to celebrate accomplishments, to analyze failures or missed opportunities, and to plan our course forward. Let us vow to make 2022 a year of Unity and Progress in our personal lives, in our Union, in our communities, and in our Nation.

Happy Holidays and Blessings to All!

RETIREE
CHAIRMAN

I was talking to a senior citizen the other day and I asked his age. He informed me that he was 100 years old. I was impressed and asked him what his secret to a long life is. He paused for a minute and said, “I don’t know, I will have to ask my dad”. I asked where his dad was, and he replied. “Out fishing with my grandpa”.

I thought I would start off today with a little humor and my wife said I was correct with the little humor. Humor is good because it takes our mind off all the negative stuff going on. You can’t read the newspaper or watch the television without a crisis of sort going on. I recently was talking with Gene Keller, and asked him how things were going. He shared several issues and it got me to thinking that his situation is not isolated, and we all may face decisions in life that we do not like or want to make.

One issue is our independence. We all pride ourselves on being able to care for ourselves and driving a car is a large part of that. We can drive to our doctor appointments. We can drive to the store and do our shopping. We can go visit our friends in the hospital or a nursing home. Driving gives us a ton of independence but what happens when you are no longer able to drive. Our independence disappears when that happens. We must depend on family and friends to drive us to what destinations are required. It is a terrible loss.

Another issue is hospital stays that force us to choose where and how we will rehab. In most cases that means a nursing home. Finding a nursing home is no easy task. I talk with a lot of members that are going through that process or will be facing that choice in the future.

Nursing homes! What defines a nursing home? Though the term “nursing home” is used rather generically by many people, it refers to a facility that provides 24-hour-a-day care to its patients. Not every patient will require the level of services offered by a true nursing home, making less expensive options such as an assisted living community or at-home care, to name only two of the many different viable alternatives. When you think about nursing homes, several alternatives are available, convalescent care center or rehabilitation center. This reflects the fact that it’s no longer just assumed that a patient will remain in a nursing home for the rest of their life. Instead, these facilities address medical care needs that are often specific and temporary.

In many cases, patients may transition from a hospital stay to a skilled nursing facility and then eventually to an intermediate care facility as their medical care needs diminish.

Data from the Centers for Disease Control shows that overall, looking at all patients 45 years of age or older, 40% of males and 37% of females stayed less than one month in a nursing home, and another 20% of males and 19% of females stayed more than a month but less than three months. Only 4% of males and 7% of females had stays longer than five years.

Many facilities offer both skilled nursing and intermediate care under the same roof, so if your loved one is nearing discharge from the hospital and will require a step-down like this, finding such a facility will be an adjustment to a new setting and may eliminate the need to work through the process of selecting separate facilities that provides the care that is needed.

I hope this information helps those that are facing life changing decisions. Moving to any new location for what ever reason is no easy task. Now changing the subject...

At our last meeting we made the decision to discontinue meetings until the first of the year. With that in mind, your executive board wants to wish you a safe and Happy Thanksgiving with family and time together in a safe environment. December will be next and there are plans in the making to celebrate. We won’t decorate the hall, but we may have a drive through Santa’s village and celebrate the season with a flare.

In closing, on behalf of your executive board, we wish all our members and family a great Thanksgiving and a very Merry Christmas.

In Solidarity, Ron Long, Retiree Chapter Chairman, Local 933

High School Outreach Program

On October 5, Speedway High School hosted Ryan Noblet, along with Tony Harbin, Mike Garrison, and Gary Collins. They gave students a highlight reel of what Allison is all about. This included information about our products as well as job opportunities, apprenticeships and internships that are available. "The program is twofold," said Noblet. "It helps provide students with an option to join our company and it provides us with a feeder program from the school. The goal of the event is to explain to these kids, if they are going to college or not, that there are other avenues out there. We utilize STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) programs at schools with an Ivy Tech program for manufacturing engineering."

Other schools on the schedule for these visits include Washington High School and Ben Davis High School's Area 31. Area 31 is a program where students from area high schools (Avon, Ben Davis, Brownsburg, Cascade, Danville, Decatur Central, Monrovia, Mooresville, Plainfield, Speedway and Tri-West) attend a half-day of hands-on learning and real-world work experience. These two schools were chosen because of their proximity to Allison and their diverse student population.

"These opportunities are a good way for Allison to give back to the community, while helping us with our future hiring needs."
