GARY HOLMES

LOCAL 933
PRESIDENT

As we come to the close of yet another year, we can look back at 2023 as a major year of accomplishments when UAW made historic gains in their Tentative Agreements, subject to approval by the membership, after the “STAND UP” strike against the big three (Ford, Stellantis and GM) which lasted six weeks. Currently UAW Local 933 is in contract negotiations with ATI and ABM. We are hoping to have Tentative Agreements by the time this newsletter comes out. The bargaining committee is working diligently to win a fair and equitable agreement for all of our members. Stand Strong in Solidarity and support your Bargaining Team.

I would like to thank our Financial Secretary/Treasurer Scott Lawson and our Bookkeeper Melody Glover for the job that they do on behalf of Local 933. Our Local Union went through an International Audit which we passed with flying colors. Good Job!

The Local 933 Annual Community Labor Celebration was a Huge Success this year. Thanks to all of our Sponsors, Standing Committees and Members for volunteering and their commitment to this event which allows us to create UAW Awareness while giving back to our surrounding community. There was Free Food, a Live Band, Rides, Bounce Houses and Pro Wrestling. Thanks to our Regional Director, Dave Green, who awarded the UAW Pro Wrestling Champion Belt to the winner. Let’s not forget our Region 2B Servicing Representatives who also volunteered for this event. It takes a lot of hard work, time and donations to have an event like this. Local 933’s Executive Board did another outstanding job and I look forward to next year’s Labor Celebration with their continued support. We were able to make a donation of $1,500 to The Bryan Clauson Legacy Fund supporting the Indiana Donor Network Foundation which was the charity of choice for the 2023 Labor Celebration. For more information go to IndianaDonorNetwork.org.

The Veterans Committee hosted the 11th Annual UAW Local 933 Veteran’s Car Show and once again did an outstanding job raising funds for the INDY HONOR FLIGHT. Not wanting to still their thunder, please check out their page in this issue of the Rocket.

Our Community Services Committee did another amazing job with the Trunk or Treat event this year. The children had a fun time and the adults did too! I can’t say enough about all of our Standing Committees. With 13 different committees, it takes a lot to keep them busy. I appreciate them so much for the things they do for this membership.

I hope everyone has a good Thanksgiving. I received an email this week from Community Caring & Sharing, a charitable organization here in the community which we support. They help needy families here in the area whether its putting food on their table, clothes on their back or helping them keep the heat on. The food supply for their pantry is running low and they have asked for our help. Your Local 933 Executive Board approved $300 to purchase nonperishable can good items which we’ll have to them ASAP. Those less fortunate than us that need help are hungry every day, not just during the holidays. Let us not forget that we are so blessed.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the “Breakfast with Santa and the Grinch too!” on Saturday Dec. 9th followed by our Membership Meeting on Sunday Dec. 10th.

On behalf of the entire Executive Board, we wish you, your family and friends a Merry Christmas and a Safe and Happy New Year!

In Solidarity,

Gary Holmes, President

Stand Up and Stand Together

One of the most common questions I get asked is how will the Big 3 contract negotiations affect us here at Local 933 Rolls-Royce? As tentative offers are being voted on, we are beginning to see the fruition of the UAW stand-up strikes. Of course, no one likes tier wages or past negotiations that took cost of living, decent healthcare benefits and pensions away from workers. When those items were negotiated away, it was in part due to the health of the individual businesses to rebuild and face a global economy that put companies in a better position to compete. What we have seen with the Big 3 is a rebound and record profits in the billions. UAW President Shawn Fain has clearly stated the workers have helped that turn around and it is time to reward them. What each negotiator must account for is the health of the business. It becomes pointless to negotiate past a ceiling that results in an aftermath of outsourcing and plant closures. Each facility is unique, and each industry faces competition that may be distinctive. It is very important that your negotiating team understands and studies ways to keep the so-called golden goose alive and well. I have personally seen negotiations where half the work in the factory is being sent out and layoffs are abundant. We have all seen giant factories around us close and be scraped to the ground.

Negotiations are never easy and being able to see potential ways to grow the business and put better opportunities in front of your negotiating team will result in better bargaining power at the table. I can assure you our bargaining team will compare other contracts as well as our evolution here in Indy as we move toward our next set of negotiations. New military contracts for the B-52 engine and V-280 will certainly help as well as the investment in the facilities, but ultimately more new work will be needed to keep good paying jobs with good benefits and a future for our workers. If the companies are winning, it is the union's responsibility to ensure the workers are winning too.

What can each of you do to support our union? First off: Become educated on your local and national contracts. It is important to understand what has been negotiated. Get involved in your union through union meetings, committees and events that help show union solidarity. Lastly, realize that union dues help support strike funds, community action, and help keep our local/national union strong and working for you. Today, all our members pay union dues except two. Thank you for not scabbing on our union like they do.

I would like to give our Local 933 Allison Transmission Brothers and Sisters all our support and prayers as you work through contract negotiations. We stand with you! Please wear red on Wednesdays as a show of support.

As we move into November 2023, I would like to recognize and thank our Veterans for all you have done to help secure our freedoms. Working in a defense plant that helps support those efforts brings an even greater importance to the role we all play keeping America safe. The UAW elected and appointed representatives would also like to wish you and you families a blessed Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays.

Thank you for all you do.

Union Strong,
John Snow

STRIKING
CORPORATE

As we go about our days, occupied with our own affairs, it is difficult to ignore the recurring scene coming across our television screens of employees from yet another corporation striking their employers in protest. This year has seen a significant surge in organized labor, with workers and unions joining forces to demand better wages and working conditions from corporations enjoying record profits.

The decision to strike is never an easy one, especially as workers, already stretched financially, face an unknown and potentially long period without income and without the assurance of a favorable outcome. Nevertheless, when workers finally reach the breaking point and employers continue to turn a deaf ear to their pleas, the time to act has arrived. In this year alone, approximately 390,000 workers have initiated strikes in response to deteriorating working conditions, low pay, and contentious employer-employee relations. Workers are organizing, mobilizing and protesting to turn the tide.

On May 2, 2023, Writers Guild of America (WGA) members took to the streets in protest following six arduous weeks of negotiations. The WGA represents nearly 11,500 writers involved in the American entertainment industry's film sector. The WGA strike came to a close on September 27, 2023, a strike that lasted 148 days and had an estimated economic impact of $3 billion.

On July 14, 2023, the Screen Actor Guild – American Federation of Television and Radio Artists mimicked the WGA's actions by taking to the streets after unsuccessful negotiations regarding job security. Even now, the SAG-AFTRA remains on strike while negotiations continue.

On September 15, 2023, the UAW, representing over 145,000 members nationwide, initiated a targeted StandUp Strike against specific segments of the Big Three automotive industry. Rather than pulling all employees out on strike, President Shawn Fain focused on certain facilities to create a significant supply chain disruption, resulting in downstream layoffs. At the time of this writing, all entities of the Big 3 have a tentative agreement pending membership ratification.

On October 2, 2023, Allison Transmission and UAW Local 933/ATI Division initiated contract negotiations. The contract is set to expire on November 14, 2023, and despite the absence of progress, the Union maintains optimism for a fair and equitable agreement, similar to other UAW sectors and the Big Three.

We must not forget the sacrifices made by the UAW during the monumental 2007 bankruptcy to sustain Corporate America. Corporate America not only survived her dark night by leaning on her workers, she thrived and continues to thrive while her workers have been asked again and again to take concessions. The time has arrived to balance the scales. The workers have given enough. We are resolute in our stance, and we will hold our ground. The workers have made it possible for ATI to consistently achieve record-breaking profits, and it is high time for those profits to be reflected in our wages and in the monthly checks received by our retirees.

As we stand in Solidarity and Unity, let 2023 be a year marked by the absence of concessions.

In Solidarity,
George Freeman III
Bargaining Chairman
UAW Local 933/ATI Unit

Veterans Car Show

The UAW Local 933 Veterans Committee hosted their 11th Annual Car & Truck Show on Saturday, August 12, 2023, at American Legion Post #64.

Even though it rained early, it was a successful event, raising $22,017.72 for Indy Honor Flight.

This will mark the eighth year that the UAW Local 933 Veterans Committee has given donations to Indy Honor Flight and has raised a total of $107,013.04 for the IHF organization.

We could never put on this kind of show without our generous sponsors and donations from individuals. YORK Chrysler (Plainfield) sponsored the show this year, and we greatly appreciate their generous Platinum sponsorships each year.

It takes a lot to make this work, donating not only money but a lot of time. (Jeremy Richard)

On behalf of the UAW Local 933 Veterans Committee, I would like to give special recognition to Dale Johnson, retired Tinsmith of Allison Transmission (Speedway). Dale has helped with sponsorships, donations, and door prizes, and established relationships for the show to be at this level, says Jeremy Richard (Chairman of UAW Local 933 Veterans Committee).

DON REED

RETIREE
CHAIRMAN

It won't be long until the holiday season is in full swing, so I, along with the Executive Board would like to wish everyone a happy holiday season and a very Merry Christmas.

We have a full schedule of events these last two months of the year. We will have our annual Thanksgiving luncheon Tuesday November the 14th at noon, and also on December the 12th at noon we will be having our annual Christmas luncheon. Both are catered by Dorothy Coleman.

On November 27th we will be decorating the hall for Christmas, and volunteers are always welcome. Melody Glover is providing the chili. It is always a fun time for everyone involved.

Don't forget on Saturday, December 9th will be the annual UAW Local 933 "Breakfast with Santa" celebration with food, crafts, candy, and a chance for the kids to meet Santa! This day is fun for adults also!

So, as you can see, there is plenty to do at the hall these last two month, so see you all at the hall!

Eli Blount

A Little History on Crab TACOZ WINGZ ND THANGZ
Eli Blount has been cooking in the kitchen with her mother and grandmother since she was young. Her passion for great tasting food has always driven her so she took the initiative to start cooking in her home kitchen. That time and dedication came to fruition in the form of a food truck, and "Crab TACOZ WINGZ ND THANGZ" was born. Eli says her mom was an amazing cook and she had told her that one day we will have our own restaurant. She has been operating "Crab TACOZ WINGZ ND THANGZ" since March 2021. She specializes in, you guessed it, Crab, more specifically Crab boils. She makes authentic Street tacos and has Birria tacos too. Her famous wings are great tasting. She promises you haven't tried a wing as good as these wings. She even crafts a special Christmas wing that are referred to as the "Grinch Wingz". Careful, eat at your own risk, I hear they are very hot. Along with her signature crab boils, tacos and wings, Eli serves a variety of other eats. Chicken and waffles, fish and fries, a spicy chicken sandwich that is no joke hand fried and spicy, a Mexican style taco salad and The Famous Blount Munchie Box. To find where she is gonna be next just call her and be sure to stop in.
